PRICE THREE CENTS

BRICE'S RAILROADS

May Be Consolidated With the C. H. & D. System

Some Interesting Gossip About the Meeting of the P. A. & W. Delegates

Senator Brice's railroad transaction, says the Cincinnati Tribune, at this time are of great importance. His actions are being closely watched by railroad men in this State, for the purchase of the P. A. & W. means, it is thought, that there is another great trunk line from Pittsburgh to the West. Not alone is Brice as the owner of the L. E. & W. interested in the purchase, but associated with him are the C. H. & D. interests. The Senator said that the C. H. & D. would probably furnish half the purchase money.

"The P. A. & W." said he, "runs from Akron to Delphos. It was built to sell to the B. & O., but the negotiations failed. The B. & O. built its own line from Akron to Chicago Junction, and the P. A. & W. immediately became bankrupt. It sold for $80,000, and we got it from the successful bidder. It will take $2,000,000 to put the line in shape and another million for rolling stock."

"The P. A. & W. crosses the L. E. & W. at Bluffton. The D. & M. is intersected at Columbus Grove, and at Delphos the C. H. & D.'s Cincinnati, Dayton and Chicago line from Delphos to Ironton is connected with it. At Akron it connects with the C. A. & C."

"From Akron we expect to use the direct line into Pittsburgh. There may be other purchases and traffic arrangements made, but I cannot give the details now. As to the C. J. & M. it is still in the courts."

A glance at the map of Ohio will show what an important link this little P. A. & W. road really is. The traffic arrangements and financial interests of the Brice and C. H. & D. syndicate make the deal of great interest. Brice practically controls the C. A. & C., running from Columbus to Hudson, and then into Cleveland over the Cleveland & Pittsburgh, a Pennsylvania line. He owns a quantity of stock, not quite a controlling interest, but George W. Saul, the general manager, is a Brice lieutenant. The coalition with the C. H. & D. interests is a strong one, and its importance cannot be underestimated. Saul is receiver of the Ohio Southern, and there is talk of that road passing into C. H. & D. control.

The Clover Leaf runs from Toledo to St. Louis. The western terminus of the P. A. & W. is Delphos, and the Clover Leaf passes through Delphos. The line is in financial trouble, but is being operated, undoubtedly, by Brice men. With the P. A. & W. connection the T. St. L. & C. will have a direct line from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. Then as the Lake Erie & Western runs from Sandusky to Peoria, Ill., traffic, which has hitherto been thrown to other lines, will be diverted at Bluffton and carried to Pittsburgh on Brice roads. Recently the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling built a line from Medina, where it intersects the P. A. & W., into Cleveland. M. D. Woodford, president of the C. H. & D., is president of the C. L. & W., so here is another combination. The Clover Leaf and the P. A. & W. will run into Cleveland, thus making another direct line to St. Louis and Peoria.

It will be readily seen that this purchase is of moment in the railroad world. It is not improbable to forecast, in the not distant future, a consolidation of all these roads. The idea was suggested to Colonel Brice yesterday and he promptly responded, "It is not at all improbable."

With the purchase of the C. L. & W., to give the C. J. & M. a Cincinnati entrance, another important link will be forged. The P. A. & W. another bankrupt concern, is now in Brice's hands, and it will be added to the list. The road is in splendid physical shape, it is said.

During Senator Brice's visit here he saw all of the prominent local tailors, men and transacted much business. Receiver Hunt, of the P. A. & W., was here, and George Hafel, of the C. L. & W., was closeted with Brice for an hour.

STREET TALK.

Chas. H. Sontag, formerly of this city, and who has been located in Marion, has associated himself with a couple of gentlemen of that city, and will shortly begin the publication of an afternoon daily paper in that city.

It is rumored that M. A. Smalley, of Upper Sandusky, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, and well known in Lima, will be appointed United States Marshal for the Northern Ohio district.

The pupils of St. Rose's school are preparing an exhibit of penmanship, drawing, etc., for the inspection of the public. A cordial invitation was extended, yesterday by the pastor, Rev. A. E. Manning, to the congregation and also to their non-catholic friends to call at the school building next Sunday and Monday and view the work, thereby encouraging both scholars and teachers. This year promises to excel any former effort in that line.

Superintendent S. K. Blair, of the Nickel Plate road, accompanied by his wife and children, of Ft. Wayne, are in the city for a visit with Mrs. Blair's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Mitchell. They will remain a week or ten days.

"The fact is, and we speak with accurate knowledge, the burning oil from the Lima crude is a better illuminant than that made from Appalachian oil. It does not before the chimney so much, it gives less crust on the wick per hour burned, the flame does not drop so quickly, and the candle power is greater, and is maintained at a higher point as the lamp burns. Of course, the Ohio crude does not burn as much burning oil as the Pennsylvania, and hence it is not so profitable to refine, but it yields as good if not a better illuminant."

American Manufacturer.

Thirty bicyclists from this city visited Lake Ridge, one of the pleasure resorts at the Lewistown reservoir, yesterday. The distance is thirty-three miles from this city and the trip was covered by some of the riders in two hours. Among those who were in the party were:

C. J. Brotherton, A. C. Creps, Thorn Mitchell, Virgil De Grief, Harry Waldron, Ed Stradley, Frank Rutters, Jas. Barhydt, W. H. Crimell, J. R. Baker, Chas. Durnbaugh, W. C. Hall, Will Bell, F. M. Keeton, Frank Plance, Guy Folk, John Hughes, Allan Richmond, Harry Craig, C. C. Perkins and Frank Wilhalm.

While the cyclists were at dinner in the summer hotel at Lake Ridge, a waltz entered the dining room and paralyzed everybody by crying:

"Everybody that wants soup hold up their hands."

Every Lima man in the dining room held up both hands, except Capt. Barhydt, who had his hands full of cookies, crackers, pickles, etc., that he could not raise them, so he stood up. The boys thought it was a joke but afterwards learned that was the usual custom of the house.

Charley Durnbaugh was registered at the hotel as "Sarah" and the landlord was wondering who the woman could be that came with the party all the way from Lima.

The C. & E. changed time yesterday in two of its passenger trains. No. 3, west bound, now leaves at 12:41 o'clock p. m., and No. 12, east bound, at 2:30 o'clock a. m. The time in the other trains remain the same.

The excursion which came in from the southern division of the Ohio Southern yesterday brought about seven hundred people into the city. The train consisted of nine coaches, and left the city returning at 5 o'clock.

SAFELY IN JAIL.

Forger Williams Brought Back From West Virginia.

Sheriff Aaron Fisher arrived home from West Virginia, having in his custody Forger Williams, who is now in jail here awaiting to be arraigned.

A dispatch from Huntington says:

Sheriff Fisher, of Lima, left his home last evening, having in charge J. O. Williams, alias Clarence Cook, an alleged forger, whom he had been tracing up for some time. Williams is said to have forged about $200 worth of paper at Lima and disappeared. He came to this city and lived under the name of Cook. He spent plenty of money, dressed well and became popular. His arrest created a great deal of surprise. When locked up he is said to have offered the jailer sixty dollars for permission to get out. He wept like a baby when taken away, and the officers had some trouble in putting handcuffs on him.

FIVE NEW PLAYERS

Will Be Added to the Lima Ball Club This Week.

Four New Pitchers to be Tried—Capt. Donovan will be with the Lima.

The management of the Lima base ball club is sparing no expense to brace up the team. This week there will be five new players added to the club, among the number being Capt. Donovan, of last year's team, and four pitchers—Bowen, Culver, Boylen and Younger. They will all be given a trial, and one good pitcher, at least, ought to be found in the lot; but if not the search will be continued.

The management is also bearing in mind the fact that all the games that have been lost have not been through weakness in the box, and the cleaning out will be continued until Lima has a team that can hold its own with any of the inter-state clubs.

THE COLUMBUS GAME.

COLUMBUS, June 10.—(Special)—The Columbus club dedicated their new grounds at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon by defeating the Lima team in a well played game, in the presence of 2,000 people. The feature of the game was the work of Canover, the Columbus pitcher, who struck out eleven men. In the seventh inning Columbus jumped onto Dondon and pounded out five earned runs. The battling of West, Barnes and Tanner was especially good.

LEAGUE MEETING.

A special meeting of the interstate base ball association was held in the parlors of the American hotel yesterday afternoon. President Zeigler called the meeting to order shortly after 3 o'clock. Every club was represented, and the following gentlemen responding to roll call: Milt West, Columbus; E. G. Barrows, Wheeling; Charles J. Stroehel, Findlay; Tony Zender, Kenton; Enoch Sumers, Lima; J. F. Myers, Twin Cities, and Frank O'Brien Mansfield. President Zeigler mentioned the object of meeting, which he said, was either to fill the vacancy occasioned by the withdrawal of Canton, or to drop one club in order to make a solid six club circuit. It was soon demonstrated that it would be next to impossible to drop any one of the seven clubs, and as a matter of good faith the guarantee fund was raised from $300 to $500, which was accordingly done. Hamilton, Marion and Washington, Pa., all presented applications for admission, but owing to the difficulty heretofore experienced with the eighth-city league it was decided to go slow in the matter of admitting a new club. President Zeigler appointed three committees to visit the above named cities and report next Tuesday. The inter-state league is on a solid foundation, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. At 8 o'clock in the evening the meeting was adjourned, subject to a call of the president. One of the Western league umpires was in attendance, and stated that the quality of the ball being put up in the inter-state league was fully as good, if not stronger than that of the Western league.—Columbus Dispatch.

NOTES.

Shortstop Barnes is now captain. Flinday plays here to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Charlie Blackman is now playing with the Lima team.

Catcher Raferst has been suspended without pay and President Young notified. He started for Lynchburg, Va.

The Saturday game was awarded to Lima 9 to 0. In the fifth inning the score was 8 to 5 in favor of Columbus, when the latter threw up the game in order to be able to reach a train for home in time for the opening game in their new park yesterday.

SUNDAY FIRE.

Wm. Wemmer's Residence Badly Damaged Yesterday.

The Origin of the Blaze was a Mystery. There was no Fire About the Premises.

At 4:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sent in from box 13, at Main and Grand avenue, and it was fully twenty minutes later before the department arrived. The fire originated in the summer kitchen at the home of Wm. Wemmer, 682 north Elizabeth street, and although an effort was made by Mr. Wemmer and several neighbors to check the flames with the use of lawn hose, the flames spread to the kitchen proper and soon the entire rear part of the house was enveloped in flames, which also spread to the rear part of the home of Joseph Ward at 678, the first house south, which was slightly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. Ward were not riding at the time. After the department arrived two lines of hose were laid and the fire was soon overcome.

The damage to Mr. Wemmer's residence and furniture will amount to about $800, covered by insurance. The house next to it, which was damaged slightly, is owned by Peter Weller, who was also insured. Mr. Weller's furniture was damaged by water and he has no insurance.

What caused the fire is a mystery, as there was no fire in the kitchen or any place in the residence at the time.

PROMISED TO RETURN IT.

Joseph Geis' Friend Denies Having Robbed Him.

Joseph Geis, a German employed on the public square, was locked up at the police station for drunkenness Friday night. A friend promised to take him home and the police released him. Geis' friend claimed he paid $2.00 to get him out of jail and Saturday when Geis drew his money he gave him the $2.00. The men were drinking together Saturday evening and Geis' pocket book disappeared from his hip pocket.

Geis pointed his friend out to Chief Hailey this morning, and the man was taken before the mayor. He admitted he had lied about the $2.00 but denied that he took the pocket book. He promised to return the $2.00, and was released.

SPARE THE WATER.

Words of Caution to the Citizens of Lima.

As we are to all appearances entering into quite an extended growth, it behoves us to be careful of our water supply, which is running short.

While our water works trustees are making every effort to take care of us, we do not give a thought to the calamity that will overtake us if we should be without water, which will happen if we do not get rain and plenty of it, in the next sixty days.

Do not forget the old adage that "we never miss the water until the well runs dry." It is every citizen's duty to watch this. Do not pass by without giving it a serious thought.

From one who has had experience.

Lessons From the Recent War.

To China and Japan, two nations which have never been regarded by their warmest admirers as being more than barely within the extreme outer circle of civilization, has fallen the distinction of having engaged in the first naval battle with modern warships. Up to the time of the big struggle between the two squadrons in the Yellow sea the mammoth marine engines of destruction upon which the more important governments have been expending millions of dollars each year for more than a decade were mere mechanical theories. It was contended on the one hand that heavily armored vessels with a few guns firing enormous projectiles would be practically invulnerable. Another and not unimportant faction, although in the minority, asserted with equal positiveness that a fleet of this description would be so badly crippled, if not annihilated entirely, as to admit it for service by a large number of swift cruisers equipped with rapid fire and machine guns.

The advocates of the latter theory would appear to be right, if the Yellow sea engagement may be taken as a criterion. The fast unarmored Japanese vessels, constantly dashing hither and thither, were seldom hit, while the massive Chinese warships, slow of speed and difficult to handle, were frequently to such an extent that most of them were rendered helpless, and, as is generally known, were captured to be used in strengthening the navy of the mikado.

Another lesson which may be learned from the recent naval battle is that no matter how powerful the ship the mentality of the commander is, after all, of the greatest importance. The quick thinking, nervous Japs simply smothered the slow, stolid Chinese by the rapidity of their maneuvers and their sudden changes of plans. The "pigtails" sailors and marines are said by those in a position to know to be naturally efficient, but their officers go into battle with one scheme mapped out, which is followed to the bitter end, without regard to unlocked for complications which may arise. The Japanese, however, abandon one plan as soon as unforeseen circumstances reveal another which appears to hold out greater promise of success.

It is fashionable in this country to belittle our own navy, but in view of the lessons taught by the Yellow sea fight we should probably be able to hold our own in a marine struggle with any nation in the world, inasmuch as our vessels are about all of the type which recent events have shown to be the most valuable for actual service, while our officers and sailors are conceded to be much the best.

A Few Thoughts on Clubs.
What will the new woman do next? Surely her representatives in Chicago have taken a decidedly advanced step in club methods, for the Woman's club of that city has formally abolished the club line by adopting this amendment to the club constitution:

"Membership shall be conditioned on character and intelligence, without regard to race, color, creed or politics."

What man's club is there which would dare to do this? Possibly the fact that the women dare and wish to admit persons of other than the Caucasian race is an index of the vital difference between the woman's club and the man's. The man's club is primarily a social organization. Its members go in to it for the purpose of having a place where they can eat, drink, smoke and tell stories. Discussions are voted boresome and dangerous in the clubhouse, politics and religion especially being tabooed. Some few men's clubs there are of the other sort, to be sure, but the number of such is not great and the membership is generally small.

At the Book by a Mechanical Process.

Almost as curious in its way as the proposed manufacture of diamonds by the terrible torture of Armenians by the Kurds to this country, newspaper details were so revolting, the methods so appalling, that comparatively little credence was given to the story, which was almost common consent attributed to some newspaper correspondent with a high pressure imagination. One statement was that victims' bodies were piled in pits, kerosene oil poured over them and the whole set on fire. The flames failing to do their work thoroughly a river was turned from its course, and thus the evidence of the most horrible massacre in modern history was in part obliterated.

Now, however, the committee appointed by the European powers has found that all this and much more really occurred, and these bold aggressive gentlemen have actually screwed their courage up sufficiently to recommend to the sultan that he should have Christian rulers, but that the sultan should have the right to put the quietus on any movement inaugurated by these prospective dynasties.

Isn't it about time for all this nonsense to be stopped? If war is ever justifiable, it is so in the interest of humanity. The crime of these Armenians is that they are Christians and not Mohammedans. The Bulgarian atrocities pale into insignificance beside the Armenian horrors, and yet for the former Russia gave the "unspeakable Turk" a lesson he is just beginning to forget.

Before his memory entirely fails him he should be forcibly reminded of his little interview with the sultan.

There is altogether too much humbuggery about international courtesy and the comity of nations. The law of humanity should stand above the law of international courtesy. It is even asserted that it does, but in the face of the Armenian massacre and the events succeeding it it will be difficult to convince a fair minded person that the lives of Christians will be any more secure in Armenia than heretofore. The nations which are really civilized and not semi-barbarous, like the Turks, should notify the sultan that another massacre will mean the extinction of Turkey as a country and its division into principalities under an international protectorate.

Spain and Cuba.

Spain would probably dispose of Cuba at a very low figure just now. Indeed, if reports are true, she may lose her willy nilly.

Ever since the purchase of Florida from Spain the importance of Cuba to the United States has been recognized. Its position at the entrance to the Gulf of Mexico and the value of its sugar, molasses and tobacco have made it a desirable island to possess. More than 50 years ago the United States offered to purchase it, and later President Polk authorized our minister to Madrid to offer $100,000,000 for it but the offer met with a flat refusal. Later the so called Ostend manifesto, by our ministers to Great Britain, France and Spain, argued that if the island could not be acquired by purchase, it was advisable to purchase it, as being of advantage to the country.

Spain and Cuba.

This is the best time of the year to go out on the highways and study nature.

Take the flowers, for instance. Who painted them? A good many of the pseudo scientists will maintain that their beauty can be explained on Darwinian principles, as being of advantage to them in the struggle for existence by attracting the visits of honey seeking insects, which are necessary to fertilization. But there are grave difficulties to this evolutionary theory. There are conspicuous and highly colored flowers which contain no honey and some of the least noticeable flowers are the richest in honey and the greatest favorite of the bees.

Then take the matter of instinct. Who taught the birds, for instance, to build their nests? They never saw one built. They never took a lesson in the building. But they succeed admirably the first time. Here again the evolutionist comes in with his reply. This instinct, he says, originated in chance instinct, which is being of advantage to them in the struggle for existence by attracting the visits of honey seeking insects, which are necessary to fertilization. But there are grave difficulties to this evolutionary theory. There are conspicuous and highly colored flowers which contain no honey and some of the least noticeable flowers are the richest in honey and the greatest favorite of the bees.

Another lesson which may be learned from the recent naval battle is that no matter how powerful the ship the mentality of the commander is, after all, of the greatest importance. The Armenian Outrages.

When the cable flashed the news of the terrible torture of Armenians by the Kurds to this country, newspaper details were so revolting, the methods so appalling, that comparatively little credence was given to the story, which was almost common consent attributed to some newspaper correspondent with a high pressure imagination.

But, curiously enough, there are radical differences of opinion among these investigators as to the value of hypnotism being accepted as true world over. Indeed it may almost be said that no scoffers are to be found among those who have made careful investigation of hypnotic phenomena.

A BIRTHDAY.

My heart is like a singing bird; whose nest is in a watered shoot; My heart is like an apple tree whose boughs are bent with thickset fruit; My heart is like a rainbow in the clouds; the promise of a golden rose; My heart is gladder than all these because my love is come to me.

Because my love is come to me.

A CRIME TO LAUGH.

Queen Sunday Laws of 1781 That Still Govern England's Lord's Day.

The introduction of the Sunday bill by Lord Houghton brings up the fact that we are governed in respect to Sunday observations by an act of the year 1781.

It seems that a Sunday lecture can always be made the subject of prosecution. Some time ago a Sunday lecture at Leeds was actually sacrilegious enough to make his audience laugh. The proprietor of the lecture hall was thereupon prosecuted for keeping a disorderly house.

Music can now be given in the open air on Sunday, but if it is given in a room nothing must be charged for chairs. In other words, it will be possible for any body of men to go to a room in a cold and dark corner, in leaves and silver flour, and be because the birthday of a life is come, my love is come to me.

Oldest Railroad Engineer Dead.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 10.—Rev. Ralph Swinburn, 99, the oldest railroad engineer in the world, who was associated with George Stephenson on the first locomotive engine, died at his home on Davis creek. He was born at Newcastle-upon-Tyne and came to America in January, 1830.

Great Rain in Iowa.

DES MOINES, June 10.—The heaviest rain in two years fell here yesterday; it is estimated that the fall in six hours was two inches. The streets of Des Moines were flooded. The rain is sufficient to mature the oat crop and corn is supplied with moisture enough for weeks to come.

Unknown Man Killed.

DETROIT, June 10.—An unknown man was run over and killed while trying to board a Wyandotte and Detroit electric car. The car was running rapidly and the man was mangled horribly. He was about 25 years old and had a lead in his pocket addressed to J. A. Realtor.

Professor Hill finds that, generally speaking, the best position for the body, when the power of compensation for the effects of gravitation in the circulation of the blood may become a serious danger.

In such a case death is more likely to result, according to the conclusions of Professor Leonard Hill, if the body is placed in such a position that the abdomen is at a lower level than the heart.

But the danger may be diminished or removed either by elevating the abdomen or by compressing it so as to drive the blood up to the heart. When the heart itself, however, has been injured, as by itself, there is danger in forcing the blood too rapidly into it.

Professor Hill finds that, generally speaking, the best position for the body, when the power of compensation for the effects of gravitation has been arrested, is with the feet up instead of with the feet down. —Youth's Companion.

The Hamadryad.

The keeper at the zoo, describing to me the hamadryad's appearance when it raised itself to strike, said it was "proud" and "bold looking." Its action was as swift as thought and looked almost like a spring from the ground.

How high when irritated the terrific thing can strike is not known, but no other instance is authenticated of a snake making good a blow so high as four feet from the ground, while minks on the glass of its cage, how that the reptile has, in its endeavors to escape from confinement, reached up to the height of nine feet.

Supposing, then, that we were inclined to believe all that the natives of India say about it—that it is so fierce as to attack man at sight, so vindictive as to follow him with dogged resolution and add to it all we actually know about the reptile, that it can climb trees like an anaconda, swim like a hydra, get over a foot wall and squeeze through a 6 inch hole, and that its bite is death, it would have to be confessed that the snake eating snake is the most terrible creature in nature. —Good Words.

An Ivory Mat.

Many people have never even heard of such a thing, and it is not to be wondered at, for these articles are exceedingly rare, and it is said by those who know that only three of these beautiful curiosities exist in the whole world. The one we now have about is the largest one made. It measures 8 by 4 feet, and though made in a small hill state in the north of India has an almost Greek design for its border. It was only used on state occasions, when the rajah sat on it to sign important documents. The original cost of the mat is fabulous, for 6,400 pounds of ivory were used in its manufacture.

The fine strip of ivory must have been taken off the tusks, as the mat is as flexible as a woven stuff and beautifully fine. —Ladies' Pictorial.

Hear! Hear!

As is usual in old cows, the groups of lymphatic glands in the intermaxillary and pharyngeal regions, in the chest, the abdomen, the subcutaneous and intermuscular regions were pigmented of a dark grayish color, varying at different points, and in no case showing molecular degeneration, coagulation necrosis (escharosis) or even perceptible congestive. The skin of the lymphatic glands behind the diseased mammae were considerably enlarged. —Unit ed States Agricultural Bulletin.

It is a well known fact that the milkmaids of Switzerland who can sing get better pay than those who cannot sing.

The reason is that a tawny maid who sings at her work coaxes one-fourth more milk from a cow than a songless milkmaid can extract.

DAILY CREAMERY.

COW STALL.
How Little a Family Bank Balances
Than a Manager.

The illustration shows the plan of a stall that we have had in use several winters, which has proved quite satisfactory to us and apparently so to others. The drop may be of any width and depth to suit the builder, and it is but a small length to suit the drop or the rack in the cows either the drop or the rack.

GRAN BOX AND RACK FOR COWS.

We should run a little angling so as to be sure at one end, and then the cows never be arranged along it according to their length.

The height from the floor to the bottom of the feeding slats is two feet; length of slats, three feet. The chutes on which the hay rests should have slope enough to keep the hay well against the slats. The grain box is placed in the corner of the stall. The advantage of this rack over the manger is that the cows cannot before the floor while standing forward to eat, and then step back and lie down in it; but are compelled to stand back while eating, so that the manger falls into the drop, keeping the floor clear. Our cows are as clean as when running on pasture. —A. M. C. in Rural New Yorker.

Appeal for the Jersey.

Mr. Valerian E. Fuller writes:

At the last annual meeting of the American Jersey Cattle club a committee was appointed to form state Jersey breeders' associations in every state in the Union and to revive into greater activity those which seemed to be lagging. This committee is composed of the states chairman and Messrs. J. J. Richardson and William R. Weed. Two meetings of the committee have been held, and good, substantial progress has been made.

Every Jersey breeder has an interest in these matters. As stated in the beginning of this letter, the American Jersey Cattle club has done its work nobly and well, and it now rests with the Jersey breeders of the country to show how far they appreciate the efforts of the club by giving all aid in their power to attain the end sought. Each one has a personal interest; each one ought to desire to see literature demonstrating the superiority of the Jersey cow disseminated in his immediate section of the country, thereby intensifying the interest in the Jersey cow and adding to the value of his own possession.

But I appeal to the Jersey breeders of this country broader grounds. The love for the admiration of and the confidence in the Jersey cow must, from sheer merit, be present in the breast of every owner of a Jersey. We are all proud of her and her achievements. We all have a common interest, the advancement of the butter queen and the champion of the cheese vat and the pail. Working for this common cause will unite the Jersey breeders into closer union and will create cohesion in a common interest, which always results in good to any cause.

I appeal to my brother Jersey breeders throughout the land without hesitation. I know that you will do your part in this matter. I leave it in your hands with perfect confidence.

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to those who have been good enough to forward me names and address me assistance in the distribution of my reports.

Good For Boston.

An important meeting of the butter and cheese dealers of Boston was held at the Chamber of Commerce to take action upon the matter of spurious or "filled" cheese, which has within a year or so largely come into eastern markets from the west. It was stated that in consequence of heavy shipments of this cheese to England and Europe the market for genuine American cheese there has been almost ruined. A resolution was adopted almost unanimously against this cheese and a pledge was presented and signed by nearly all the wholesale butter and cheese factories of the city not to handle the filled cheese at any price or in any form. A memorandum will be sent to other large cheese buyers and handlers in New York and elsewhere asking them to take similar action, and it is hoped that thus this spurious western cheese can be driven from the market and the export trade revived.

MILD MR. ROCKEFELLER.

One Bank That No Bank From a Clerk Without Getting Mailed.

I never saw a man take life less seriously than John D. Rockefeller, says a correspondent of the New York Press. He has an easy way of saying and doing things that appeal to the aesthetic nature. Nothing worries him, not all his millions. At times I have known John to seem dull. I have known people to take him for a soft, slow, stupid fellow, instead of the hard, gliding, firm, rocky fellow that he is. He once had an employee, a nervous, irritable young man, full of his own importance, but with a capable clerk. He accepted an office in which there was one of those pulling and lifting machines, and regularly every morning about 9, when he was immersed in figures of correspondence, a small, black mustached man, quiet and diffident in manner, entered, said "Good morning," walked on tiptoe to the corner and exercised for a quarter of an hour. It became a bore to the clerk, who at last, unable to stand it longer, remarked, with considerable heat and fire, to the inoffensive but annoying stranger:

"How do you expect me to do my work properly while you are fooling with that machine? I'm getting tired of it. Why don't you put it where I won't worry a person to death?"

The stranger replied, with a blush: "I am very sorry if it annoys you. I will have it removed at once."

The height from the floor to the bottom of the feeding slats is two feet; length of slats, three feet. The chutes on which the hay rests should have slope enough to keep the hay well against the slats. The grain box is placed in the corner of the stall. Gravitation and the Blood.

We ordinarily think of the attraction of gravitation only as producing what we call weight, and as governing the motion of the earth and other planets in their orbits. But gravitation acts in a very important manner upon the circulation of the blood in our veins and arteries. An elaborate series of experiments has recently been carried out in England to determine just what effect gravitation exercises in this respect, and how its disturbing influence is compensated in the bodily mechanism.

It has been found that man probably possesses a more complete compensation of this kind than any other animal, and that the monkey stands in this respect next to man.
